He served from June 9, 1647 to August 6, 1648. Lord Baltimore appointed William Stone, a protestant, as governor in August 1648 due to the uneasy political climate.

According to "The Early Settlers of Maryland"; Skordas; Thomas Green, Esq.; Liber ABH, Folio 6,67;

Immigrated in 1633 with sons Leonard, Robert, Henry & Francis.

Immigrated to America on the Ark & Dove in 1633. Sailed from Cowles, England, arrived at St. Clement's Island the first day of the new year, March 25, 1634. There is a Henry Green listed as a passenger, has anyone investigated this Henry? There seem to be additional Greenes in St. Mary's County very early on.

Side-Lights on Maryland History:

Liber A.B.H., page 67. October 15th 1639, Mr. Thomas Green demandeth land due him by the condition of plantations - that is to say in his own right for himself, and two servants, Anam Bonam and Thomas Cooper, brought into the Province Anno 1633 0 and one servant, Thomas Wills, brought into the Province 1634.

Liber 1, page 17. Entered by Mr. Thomas Green the first year, brought into the Province, Mr. Green in his own right and two servants, Anam Bonam in his own right, in right of Mr. Fairfax his person as his assignee, Mr. Smith as his assignee and for Mr. Thomas Wills in his (Mr. Green's) own right. (Father White says Nicholas Fairfax died on the Ark).

As the lord of a manor, he was possessed of the whole of Poplar Island, which contained over 1000 acres, which was with the addition of 500 acres on Kent Island constituted Bobbing Manor (Liber 3, folio 100, Assignments, Land Office, Annapolis, Feb 8, 1650). It was he who was named by Leonard Calvert on his deathbed to succeed him which fact was proven in court on June 10, 1647, by the deposition of Mistress Margaret Brent, her sister, Mary Brent, Francis Anketill, and James Linsey, all making oath "that Governor Leonard Calvert, Esq., being upon his death bed did by word of mouth on the ninth of this month nominate Thomas Greene, Esq, Governor of the Province of Maryland" (Maryland Archives, volume 3, folio 187). Because of his loyalty in proclaiming Charles II King of England upon the death of Charles I, Governor Greene was deposed and William Stone was commissioned to succeed him as loyal to the Commonwealth.

Note: In "The Early Settlers of Charles County Maryland" by Bates & Wright is an entry:
